

From the AURA Board Chair:

AURA is an organization that punches far above its weight. One need only review the healthy statistics in this report to see AURA's tremendous impact on the sponsorship and resettlement of refugees. And then after a visit to AURA's website and seeing AURA in various social media channels one would think there is a huge team making this happen behind the scenes.

But, like in the Wizard of Oz, when the curtain is pulled back a surprise is in store. One discovers a small team of dedicated and talented staff, students, volunteers and board members seemingly making small miracles happen every day. AURA accomplishes so much with so little.

BUT we can't keep this going indefinitely with the current level of resources. AURA's viability and future success lies in its ability to add to existing funding partners and secure new stable funding sources so it can continue to enhance the high quality work for which it is well known and respected.

That is our challenge and with your help we'll get there! We have to – there's still much work to do.
